

Funded by the Health Programme
of the European Union

Caroline Hager

Policy Officer, Directorate General for Health and Food Safety, European Commission, responsible for the implementation of the European Commission Action on European health workforce since 2011, chairs in the expert group on European health workforce and participates in the Executive Board of the Joint Action on health workforce planning and forecasting. She has 25 years' experience in a wide range of EU policy areas both in the European Commission and in the UK: former Head of European Affairs, Environment Agency for England and Wales and EU Affairs Manager for the Institute of Directors.